NY Art Book Fair @ Printed Matter

For the past 30 years, contemporary artists have turned to Printed Matter—a local non-profit arts organization—to help publish their work in book form. This year, Printed Matter sponsors its first annual (free!) art book fair, which includes over 70 exhibitors selling art books, catalogues, and 'zines. Installations by Joshua Smith and Jan de Cock will be on display and a schedule of speakers and book signings are on tap. The special preview party on Thursday includes DJs and cocktails.
